

MONOFUSE – The Point Of No Return

It takes time

Verse

Tell me the name of what you want me to be
Would I be any better?
Or is it you who never wanted to see
What we were together
I was wrong when I thought that

Chorus

It would take time
To find out where I stand
It took some time
To find out that a square can't fit
Where a circle should sit
Now I know

Verse

I was so sure that we would make it at last
But I have learned it better
Now I know that I was thinking too fast
This will not work ever
I was wrong when I said that

Chorus

It would take time
To find out where I stand
It took some time
To find out that a square can't fit
Where a circle should sit

It took some time
Now I know who I am
After this time
I found out that my square can't sit
Where your circle does fit
Now I know

Bridge

I have wasted all my feelings on you
But now the taxman of my soul wants to see if my books are true

Now I can't get back
